Printer's Waste and other Errors, Freaks and Oddities

A spectacular error of the Ohio sales tax Hubbard C23, misregistered in the wrong colors of carmine and black?

No. A piece of printer's waste printed on the backside of a Florida fishing advertisement.

Editor's Notes

Welcome to the year 2000. And we start this year with a bang. In this issue you will find one of the largest auctions we have ever had. And it is full of goodies that you just don't see often. There is a huge run of New Jersey hunting and fishing including the tough to get early woodcocks and trout. There is also large runs of Kentucky wines, Oklahoma eggs, interesting errors and new varieties of West Virginia medicinal liquors. In short there are more goodies than you can turn up in four months of looking on E-bay. Go to it.

Also we have some new stamps that have surfaced in the Richmond County, South Carolina recording stamps and Cheyenne-Arapaho cigarette tax stamps. And the back page features a new beer stamp that has been out there for 50 years. Our rate of discovery seems to be increasing. Every time I publish a Florida egg catalog half a dozen more surface and the last issue was no exception. In this issue we present an updated Indiana egg catalog. No telling what will surface.

The theme for this issue came from Mack Matesen who worked with Dr. Ken Pruess to put together the piece on printers waste. It amazed me how much complementary material I had waiting to publish. The California feed piece has been in the hopper since I took over as editor from Peter Martin.

I need to take a minute and tout our new book "The Kansas Quail Stamps" by David Lucas. These stamps are one of the most complicated issues in the state revenue realm and Dave's book explains the printing methods and plating of these stamps far better than anything else in print. The ten plate positions of these quail stamps are very collectable and most can be determined easily if you know what to look for, and Dave worked hard to illustrate the differences. The book also covers the history of the stamps and the license laws, and shows all the known flaws and perforation varieties. Even tough on license usages are included. The book also includes tables of the number of stamps issued by county. For $14 you can't go wrong.

If you want to see all the quail stamps Dave will be exhibiting them at Westpex.

What Constitutes Printer's Waste?

by M.E. Matesen

Collectors who venture into the delightful and sometimes frustrating arena of state revenues soon become aware that unlike many other areas of philately, the ground rules with respect to identifying and classifying stamps are not as clear cut and well defined as they'd like them to be. There is one particular area which is indeed murky and often times the subject of debate amongst even the most advanced collectors in the field. That is, what constitutes printers waste? There are several scholarly publications which provide a generalists explanation of this phrase. The following is from "Fundamentals of Philately":

"Printers waste - Term used to designate sheets faultily, or only partly printed that ought to have been rejected either by the printers or printers checkers and ought not to have been allowed to get into circulation. In its widest sense, the term includes most of the major errors and varieties. However, philatelically a distinction is drawn between on the one hand, those which have escaped the vigilance of the checkers, have been issued and sold in the normal way. These are highly regarded and eagerly sought after; the others (i.e. waste) are held in low regard. Occasionally real doubt exists whether a particular item falls into one class or the other."

The first illustration clearly fits the parameters of this definition. On the surface one could be mislead into believing this issue is Nebraska beer proof Pruess B71-P (Hubbard B59). It is clearly imperforate but when you examine the obverse side you'll note that this was printed on scrap paper (i.e. some type of memorandum from the famous Columbian Bank Note Company). These issues are all quite common, Figure 1 being referred to as "Nebraska scrap". Another author categorized them as mere "floor sweepings". Several sources have indicated that these came from a worker at the printing office who smuggled these out for his own and a friends collection.

These issues as well as like material in the form of Wisconsin malt beverage tax (beer) stamps (Figures 2 and 3) came into the philatelic market in the early 1960's. Most likely they were obtained in sheet form and later scissored down to give the impression they were issued in this manner. However, the irregular cuts belie this fact.

Figure 4 at first glance appears to be a dry printed card block of four proof of an Idaho liquor seal. And Figure 5 looks to be a proof on security paper of the rare Arkansas cigar CR2. But once again an examination of the obverse side of each clearly place both in the category of printers waste, which for all intents and purposes should never have gone beyond the printers trash barrels.

Is this to imply that a peek at the backside of any questionable issue would tell you if it was printers waste? No. Yet it was not particularly difficult to make this observation with respect to categorizing these first three examples. There are other stamps in and on the state revenue market, as well as in collections which make this task a little more difficult. Ron Leshner Jr.³ makes the following observation:

"Although provenance may be difficult to know, it is really the "key" to both understanding and labeling what these things are and how they should be valued. It therefore behooves us to seek out the path of ownership (did it come out of the state printer? Out of "official files" or one of the employees collection of samples of his work?) and if this proves impossible, to speculate as to how the thing was made and when. Would it have been something the company of the state needed to keep for its records? Can be confusing."

This statement is particularly cogent in that we can employ provenance in a more objective rather than subjective manner toward the correct identification of printers waste. Sometimes collectors might be prone to dismiss unusual issues as waste when the "path of ownership" is not known. Here is but one example where that would lead you to the wrong conclusion.

Specimens of Washington state beer stamps are well known and catalogued, but in most cases they are distinguished by two 6mm holes punched through the serial panel. The Idaho beer shown in Figure 6 differs from this in that there are six evenly spaced punches with a red pencil inscription "001-330???" across the middle. When this stamp surfaced, I was extremely lucky to have known its path of ownership. When a new "run" was ordered for a particular stamp, the printer (in this case Spokane Litho Company, Spokane, Washington) would prepare a "specimen" and mail same to the Tax Commission in Olympia where requisite serial number sequences would be entered - the red pencil numbers. The specimen would be returned to the printer, and the stamps would be printed. The "specimens" were then routinely saved in the file of Spokane Litho. Without this information, I'd also have tended to categorize this stamp as mere printers waste.

One final example can be abstracted from our own State Revenue News. Over the past many years, this publication has been in existence, many well crafted research articles have been drafted wherein the matter of printers waste has been touched upon. Here is one concerning freaks found on Oregon-Washington melon and tomato stamps.

".... Being stuck with several hundred useless stamps the printer was more than happy to sell.....the remainders...To a dealer... after the transaction the discovery was made that these stamps existed hyphen hole rouletted 6 3/4, imperforate, without gum, even gummed on the face.... All of these latter items, of course, can be considered printers waster...⁴.

The tools mentioned herein are just that - tools. By no means are they inclusive. When unusual material is discovered, look closely and use common sense, try to discover its provenance, seek opinions from experts in the field, and hunt for articles on the history of the stamps. In most instances, you can determine whether they are printers waste. And on some, you will just never know.

The author wishes to thank these SRS members for providing examples and suggestions with respect to the preparation of this article. They are Gerald Derksen, R.S. Hemstead, Kenneth Pruess and members of the Board of Governors of our State Revenue Society.

Indiana Egg Cataloging

by Scott Troutman

In this issue is an attempt to update the catalog listings of the late Charles Hermann and George Cabot, both of which were done a great many years ago. No values have been given as I have been unable to establish which ones are great rarities and which are more common. Most run in the $10-15 range. A number of SRS members contributed pictures or listings of material they held. These include Robert Mason, Peter Martin, Donald Lemon, Mack Matesen and others whose names I may have forgotten to log.
If I missed you, I apologize.

Auction Changes

Beginning with Auction 16 I have instituted two changes. The first is that if a consignor has put a minimum bid on a lot, I will show that. Not showing it has just caused confusion all around. If a consignor places a minimum bid on a lot, it is treated just like the consignor placed a bid on the lot, that is you are going to get charged 10% of the minimum bid for the privilege. This part is not a change. Remember that I don't take bids less than a $1 or for less than 10% of the estimate.

Also, I am only going to take 75 lots from any consignor per auction. This will affect very few.

Lastly, it is very helpful to me if you try to catalog your stuff before you send it in. I'll try to double check you, and if it is a small bunch, I don't mind doing it. Cataloging the stuff is very time consuming and time is what I am short on.

Three That Are Not Printers Waste

by Scott Troutman

Shown are three North Carolina feed stamp errors that I believe are not printers waste. I say this based on discussions I had with the late Elbert S.A. Hubbard during his attempts to sell me these stamps.

These North Carolina feed stamps were all printed at Winston Printing Company of Winston-Salem, N.C. Elbert had told me that he had tried on several occasions to get inside the company in hopes of procuring specimens, proofs or printers waste but he was never successful.

Figure 1 shows an imperforate pair of the 1909 F3 stamps. These stamps, printed on yellow paper, were normally roulette 4. George Cabot had located examples of this stamp and the F4 and F5 one cent stamps in which a row of roulettes were dropped, leaving vertical pairs, imperforate horizontally. This stamp is listed in the Hubbard catalog as F3a.

in Hubbard and were apparently discovered by him in some stamps he had purchased. In this case it is the red F118a with a row of horizontal perforations missing. This may well be a unique object.

F126 feed stamps. In this case a piece or foreign matter, probably a slip of paper, was laying on this sheet of stamps when it was printed. The piece of paper fell off later and what is left is two stamps with a white band across them - a most spectacular printing error.

Ohio Guttersnipe

by Scott Troutman

Guttersnipes are a form of error frequently seen on postage stamps, but not seen that often on state revenues. It only occurs where large panes of stamps are printed with gutters or blank spaces between the panes, to allow for cutting the full panes into smaller panes. If stamps are perforated before being cut into smaller panes, a guttersnipe is the row of perforations on either side of the gutter. If things go well, it should never be detectable.

On this Ohio wine tax stamp (Hubbard W2b), the stamps went through the perforator incorrectly and the guttersnipe is across the top of the lower stamp.

This stamp is ex-Hugh Smiley.

The State of the Society

by Scott Troutman

As we enter the year 2000, I am pleased to report that the society is as sound as it has ever been. We have our largest membership ever and a very participatory group you are. As is our custom we thought a review of some of the areas is in order.

The State Revenue News - 1999 brought us several nice awards including a vermiel in a literature competion. Hopefully we will continue to improve. We have upgraded the software we produce it with to Pagemaker 6.5 and Jim McKellips may be upgrading his printing facilities to handle color. If so we may be bring you some color in future issues.

Our membership continues to write-up finds for us and so I have almost a two issue backlog of material waiting to come out. And we continue to try and print cataloging efforts of stamps where their either is no current cataloging or it is out of date. And I continue to get great research and overview articles which is why we have been garnering some nice literature awards. To all of you, a big thank you.

Kansas Quail Stamps - Our first book in some time came about after David Lucas of Kansas envigeled me into helping him edit and publish his work on one of the most complicated stamp issues ever produced. The completed book, which features several color pages, will remain a standard reference work for a long time. Initial indications are that it is selling well and I think we may need an additional printing.

Finances - Harold Effner tells me we are quite solvent, though if you haven't paid your dues for 2000 this is the last issue you will be getting. Harold's report is on page 6.

Auctions - Auction sales have continued to be very strong and toward the end of 1999 the auction manager actually had to tell folks to hold up sending stuff in (I was being buried). The 400 lot auction in this issue is the biggest in some time and I already have over 100 lots in for the 2nd quarter issue. While interesting material keeps appearing on e-bay, the SRS auctions are at the moment the best source for getting material. And other auction managers envy our sales percentage. As you will see elsewhere in this issue I have made a few changes to the auction rules, but nothing big. All the material comes from the members and it never ceases to amaze me what shows up.

Publications - Overall the sales remain steady, however we made some decisions this year to clear out some of the old ones. The Vanderhoof checklists weren't moving so we gave them away and did likewise with the old Riley Index (as a new one has superceded it). In fact we gave away a whole stack of Riley Index's at Balpex, the rest we are going to chuck. The other thing we are doing is heaving some of the back issues as Harold is running out of storage space. Not much call for 1976 issues. We will be passing out some of the surplus at Westpex as freebees.

Sales - Harold reports that the stamp sales are not as brisk as they have been. Part of the reason is that we have not aquired a lot of new items. We have just added the Richmond, SC documentaries and we remain the cheap source for NJ woodcock and trout, and there is still a stock of pickle cards thanks to Ken Pruess.

We would love to run more Free for All's but have run out of cheap stamps. If you have a load of something, consider donating it to us.

Tax Exempt Status - A question has come up that concerns the following: are donations to the SRS library tax deductible? A 1975 ruling indicated they were not, but recent discussions with the IRS indicate they may be. We are checking into that.

City-County Catalog - Member Kent Gray, currently stationed in England, is trying to gather information toward the creation of a comprehensive City-County stamp catalog. If you have a lot of these issues, he would appreciate having either color copies or black&white copies with detailed descriptions. You can contact him at PSC 41, Box 6872, APO AE, 09464

Library - This year we finally got a new library holdings list out in the last quarter issue. Peter Martin is still inventorying the research material that has been sent in and that he is keeping in state folders. This includes copies of tax laws, and other pertinent information. If you are researching something you may wish to query Peter on what he currently has. Hopefully we will publish an index on that material this coming year.

Meetings - We try to have a table in conjunction with the American Revenue Association each year. This year the revenue show is Westpex in San Francisco in April. We hope as many of you as can will come to the show, and help us work the table. I had a lot of fun meeting folks at Balpex this past year. Jerrie Lurie of the Cal-Rev group will be hosting a revenue dinner and he promises a fine evening.

Web page - We have garnered several new members off our web page, including one international member. Jim McKellips is looking for ideas to better utilize it. Also there are discussions as to whether we should register a web page with a name like SRS.com. Overall, my sense is we may be under utilizing this resource.

Visibility - Articles that our members have done in related publications have helped to give us more visibility. An article myself and John Funkhouser did on Christmas tree taxation in Scott's Stamp Monthly, an upcoming article in The American Philatelist on "My Favorite State Revenues" and pieces in The American Revenuer all help the society. I think we have done a good job in being generous with our research and gaining exposure. Peter Martin in particular deserves recognition.

General - The society is healthy and well positioned as we get ready to enter the new millennium. We can always use more help from the membership, and the more help we get, the better services we can provide. But most importantly, I hope you are all having fun and learning something and enjoying the strange and wonderful stamps we find, because that it what it is all about.

Arizona Printing Problems

by M.E. Matesen

The luxury tax stamps as noted in the 2nd quarter 1999 SRN, were printed in large quantities as taxes on everything from beer to cosmetics. When you make a lot of stamps, the odds of your making mistakes increases. Here are some interesting freaks and errors I have come across.

Mysterious Moving Blob

Shown on this pair of Arizona LX25 luxury stamps is what I call the migrating blob. The odd spot which looks like a sun with a corona around it is on the right stamp just to the right of the upper left hand 6. I have also seen another example of this stamp where this blob was in the center of the stamp. It is similar to the "whirlpool" error on a Michigan apple stamp shown on the front cover of the 1st quarter 1998 SRN. If anyone knows what causes these, the editor and author would like to know. We assume it is something getting on the printing plate.

The blob looks like a solar eclipse of the sun on this blow up. It is on the right stamp above.

Poor Print Quality

If one compares the quality of printing between the issues bearing the signature of then Arizona Commissioner M.A. Murphy and those that follow in 1934 bearing the name of Frank Luke the differences are striking. Quality control in the later series was not the order of the day as they say.

Shown are five examples of the blue LX16 luxury tax stamps with the Luke signature. On all of these the press was having problems and inking errors abound. Ink missing next to the upper right hand corner.

A different ink missing problem on the upper right corner.

An ink missing problem has caused the T in CENT to be missing.

Part of the bottom is missing.

An even more extreme example of the ink missing at the bottom. Note that on the small fragment of the stamp attached the bottom is there.

Double Inking Error

I purchased this item from the 1871 shop some fifteen years or so ago for a whopping $1. Here we have LX13 rose in color and then LX14 in violet printed directly over the other, or maybe it was the other way around. That aside, this is a wonderful item in that it reinforces the fact that there was one plate for the one cent denomination and for that plate six different colors were printed (Hubbard's LX12 thru LX16).

Three Stamps With Problems

by Scott Troutman

These three stamps are in Auction 16. As this issue is on printing troubles, I thought I would discuss these a bit.

The top block of four is from a sheet of Minnesota documentaries or deed stamps. The problem, which may not be obvious from the picture, is that the roulette perforator disengaged partway through this block. The stamp at the upper left is fully rouletted on all four sides. However, the rouletting horizontally stops just at the right edge of the right stamps. A vertically roulette which should separate the selvage is missing. On the lower two stamps the roulettes stop just above the colored box which hold the value. There are no roulettes at the bottom of the lower stamps. Stamps which have bidirectional perfin problems typically are the result of a bullseye type perforating device being opened or shut down. Many similar examples exist on US postage stamps.

The second stamp down is most interesting. It is an Ohio sales tax stamp C28A in mint condition. These stamps were printed in two colors - brown and green. The brown is there, but the green is completely missing. When I first looked at it I thought it was a proof, but it is on the correct paper and it is perforated. Perforating was done in a second operation. Is it a major error, a proof, or some printer's waste? My guess is that two sheets of paper stuck together when the green color was printed. I don't think the proofs were perforated. I think it is an error. But read Matesen's article on page 3 and make your vote in the auction.

The last pair of Oregon insurance stamps, D15, is another interesting object. The perforator was clearly having problems.

Either the pressure settings were wrong, or the perfin pins were bending. In at least two places it was blind perfin. That is, it was not punching all the way through the paper. You can see this most clearly on the left side of the left stamp, where when the stamps were torn apart the holes stayed with the stamp in clumps. On the left side of the right stamp it is even worse, and on the right side there is no evidence of perfin at all.

These stamps were described as part imperforate, and to be sure the top, bottom and right side show no perfs. But the top and bottoms are cut close, the bottom obviously scissored. And the perforator was not well centered. If you carefully scissored the right stamp from the left one, putting your scissors as far right as possible without getting into the perf holes, you can make a stamp just as wide. So did the perforator disengage and make part perforates? The Minnesota block shows such things are possible. Or did someone do some fancy scissor work on an off center perforated pair and create an imperforate appearance?

Florida

A copy of the 1998-99 Florida turkey stamp has just been received from the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission. Turkey stamps from the previous year become available each year on July 1 immediately after they expire on June 30. After that date they may be purchased for a discounted price of $5.00 per stamp. Collectors of these stamps will note the new format for the 1998-1999 stamps.

Washington

In 1997 Washington issued an Eastern Washington Pheasant Enhancement Stamp at a cost of $10. Its purpose was to help finance the restoration of pheasants in the eastern regions of the state. This is a self-stick stamp with the silhouette of a pheasant in flight in the background. Copies continue to be available to collectors at the following address:

The 1901 Missouri Liquor Tax: More Discoveries

by Kenneth Pruess

When I first reported on this short-lived tax¹, I was aware of only two values. These were the 1 1/4 and two cent denominations. I can now add four others: 1/4, 1/2, 1 and 50 cents. At 10 cents per gallon, the low values represent either very small containers or where to be used in combination with other stamps to make the correct rate. Equally surprising is the 50 cent stamp which would have paid the tax on 5 gallons. Since the law provided for the use on packages, this was likely used on a case of bottles or keg. To my knowledge, this is the first used copy ever reported for any of these stamps and bears a clear manuscript date cancel of May 28, 1901. Yes, this was an E-Bay acquisition. These discoveries strongly suggest that other denominations may also exist. The law provided for stamps for gallon, quart, pint, 1/6 and 1/8. Such stamps would have had values of 10, 2 1/2, 1 1/4 and 1 2/3 cents respectively, the 1/8 being the same as a pint. Thus we would assume that 1 2/3 and 10 cents stamps should also have been issued. Who has seen any of these?

New Hampshire Head Tax

Terence Hines sent in these two tax receipts for the 1952 and 1955 state head tax. For those who have never run into this tax before, it is not a tax on your outhouse or latrine (for those of a naval or marine bent). Rather it is a tax on a person for existing.

What is interesting with these is that in many instances you need to carry around this receipt with you, much like you keep a car registration in the glove box. The reason is that you couldn't vote, hunt, fish, get a drivers license or car license plates without it. These documents then, are in effect a registration for your head or a permit for you to function as a citizen of the state.

The 1952 form is on the back of a US Scott No. UY14b postal card which has been rouletted vertically to make the receipt so that it could be torn off and put in your wallet. The 1955 is just black printing on a green paper.

New York Specimens

by John Funkhouser

In the egg issue of the 1st quarter 1996 SRN, shown in the sexy centerfold, is a New York specimen essay apparently printed for possible use with egg inspection. Shown are copies of more of such generic specimens for use with other agricultural products. One of the small ones is black on white with red serial number and "SPECIMEN". The other, red everything on white.

The large one is red on white with black permit number and quantity. It appears it may be for feed. Does anyone know anything about these? If so, let the editor or the author know.

153 x 50 mm. Black on white with red "Specimen" and serial number.

153 x 50 mm. Red on white. "SPECIMEN" and serial numbers in red. Much finer hashing in state.

229 x 85 mm (shown about half size). Red on white. Red serial and "SPECIMEN". Black "Permit No. B-79" and "25 LBS. TO 50 LBS."

California Feed Perforation Varieties

by Scott Troutman

Shown is an example of the perforation variety of the California 90 pound feed stamp listed as F7e in the Hubbard catalog. This stamp is perforated 12 on all sides except the bottom, which has 12 1/

F7e

2 perfs.

The entire set of 1935 California feeds (F1-8) present the collector with a real test of your abilities with a perforation gauge. The one exception is F9, the 1 ton feed, which is only known with perf 12 all around. On the others, all manner of perforations abound.

These stamps were apparently produced on either a line perforator or an L perforator. In a line perforator the paper is fed through the machine and a row of perforating wheels punches the holes as the paper passes through in a straight line. The paper is then turned, and the wheels reset, to produce the perforations in the other direction. An L perforator is basically two line perforators hooked up at a right angle. The paper flows through one set of wheels to do the vertical perforations, and then the paper moves sideways through a second set of wheels to do the horizontal perfs.

Whatever they were using when they made these stamps the people running the machines were none to careful in their actions. Apparently they had wheels for both the perf 12 and perf 12 1/2 punches and they set up the machinery indiscriminately. The perf 12 size seems to predominate. Either this was what the machines started out with, or there were just more of these wheels available. However, it happened, the 12 1/2's got mixed in and five different varieties got created. Not all five varieties are known on all stamps.

The five varieties Hubbard lists are as follows.

- a. Perf 12 all around.
- b. 12 1/2 x 12.
- c. 12 x 12 1/2
- d. 12 on two consecutive sides and 12 1/2 on the other two.
- e. 12 on three sides, 12 1/2 on the other.
- f. 12 1/2 on three sides, 12 on the other.

On types b and c the first number is the perfs on the top and bottom of the stamp. Perf types d,e,f seem to be the hardest to find. More combinations than those listed in Hubbard for the various stamps could well exist. And if you consider all the possible sub-varieties of type d and e as to which side has the odd perf, there is no telling what is out there.

The 1943 feeds have imperforate varieties that are quite interesting. Shown is the F12a variety of the 50 cent feed of this second issue. The second issue is easily distinguished because the sky is clear in the center oval. In this variety the vertical perforations are missing. Both this variety and the type b variety which is completely imperforate were never actually issued but apparently were recovered from printers waste.

F12a imperf between printers waste

On these 1943 stamps, some can be found with the perforations missing along the edge of the sheet. Shown is a spectacular example of F10 with both margins imperforate. These make for some pretty spectacular looking stamps. All I have seen are unused which leads me to believe these were also printers waste.

F10 imperforate on two sides. Probably printers waste, but a very dramatic stamp.

New Finds

by Scott Troutman

Oklahoma Egg

A new variety of the large 15 dozen Oklahoma egg stamps has surfaced. In the Oklahoma egg catalog in the 4th quarter 1998 SRN this stamp is similar to E8. This stamp is a purple (not pale purple) stamp 120x69mm, imperforate (issued in pads) for 15 dozen AA grade eggs. It has the "PACKER'S NAME & ADDRESS" line on it like the E8, however this stamp is on a white paper, with shiny yellow gum. I am calling it E8A.

Kansas Egg

The illustration is another Kansas egg stamp which is not listed in the Bellinghausen Kansas catalog, and this one is dated for us as used July 1, 1974. At first we thought it was the E62 however the size of the stamp is different. The E62 was made in 1962 and was, according to Bellinghausen, coil, roulette vertically 6, design 72 x 33 mm.

This stamp is a coil, roulette 6 1/4 vertically, with the design 68 x 30 mm. The big difference may be the state seal. On the older series the picture part of the seal is shown. On this 1974 version the seal is surrounded by a double ring enclosing the words "GREAT SEAL OF THE STATE OF KANSAS JANUARY 30 1861". I would note that there is not much difference in the two roulettes.

Missouri Drink & Syrup

Shown is an example of the fairly scarce beverage inspection stamp that Hubbard Volume II lists as DS20. Given the signature combination of E.T. McGough and Richard R. Nacy the stamp had to be issued in 1933 as that is the only year both were in office. The stamp is black on a paper with a brown to pinkish cast. I do not think this stamp has been illustrated before. These stamps were used on soft drinks and soft drink syrups. The design measures 93 x 46 mm. A higher $10 denomination also exists as does a malt inspection pair that is thought to have a similar design with different wording.

Help Needed

We have two areas that are being researched where folks need help.

Alabama - John Bowman is currently working to update the Hubbard cataloging on Alabama. If you have items which are not in the current catalog he would like to get color copies of them or detailed descriptions. Vending machine stamps and feed varieties which are not currently listed are sought in particular along with pictures of cigarettes which have not been illustrated. Contact John at PO Box 382436, Birmingham, AL 35238-2436 or e-mail jdbowman@hiwaay.net

Florida - the Florida eggs continue to have new revelations. We need everyone to go back and take a look at the large "shrubby" issues. Kent Gray believes we have three issues muddled.

1. The first series of shrubby I believe always has Gothic (hollow) lettering, always has a box around the title and never has the letter following the serial number. In addition, it always seems to have a union label.

2. The second series doesn't actually have shrubby for a background pattern. Difficult to describe, I will call it fish scales. Fish scales always has solid lettering, never has a box around the title, always has the letter following the serial number and never has the union trademark.

3. A third set with values 3 cent and 6 cent has surfaced. It has fish scales, a union trademark and "Florida/Egg/Commission/Tax/Paid" in black over the state seal at bottom.

The order that the first two types were issued is not known.

Please let the editor know what you have and if any are used, we really want to know the dates.

1. State Revenue Mail Auction #16 closes March 24, 2000, 4 pm. Bids received after that date will not be consider unless the mailing went out late.

3. All lots are sold to the highest bidder at one bidding interval over the second highest bid. Bidding is done in the follow intervals:

$1-$10	$0.25
$10-29	$1.00
$30-$74	$2.00
$75-over	$5.00

On identical bids, the earliest postmark will win. If only one bid on a lot is received it will be sold at the amount bid or the catalog or estimated value, whichever is lower. Bids received in increments other than those above will be adjusted downward. Buy bids or bids under $1 or 10% of estimate will be ignored.

4. All auction prices are estimates unless catalog value is listed.

5. The auction manager reserves the right to withdraw any lot prior to the sale and to reject any bid believed not to have been made in good faith, that is unrealistic, or not commensurate with the value of the offering.

6. Terms of sale are cash or check in US funds. Successful bidders will be notified of lots purchased and payment must be received before lots are sent. Bidders who do not remit promptly may have their auction privileges revoked.

7. Bids must be submitted on the bid sheet or copies thereof. No buyers premium will be added to the sales price. The SRS is not responsible for bidder errors or omissions. Check you bid sheets carefully before mailing them in.

8. Postage, handling and insurance will be billed to the buyer, $2 minimum.

9. Claims for errors in description must be made within three days of receipt of lots. Claims made after that time will not be considered. Lots described as collections, mixtures, "AS IS", etc. are not returnable, nor are photographed lots. Lots described as defective or having faults cannot be returned because of such defects.

10 The placing of a bid shall constitute full acceptance of these terms of sale. Prices realized will be published as soon as possible after the sale.

Richland County South Carolina Recording Fee Stamps

by Terence Hines

In October, 1999 I happened to spot an interesting item on E-bay, the on-line auction service. This was a $2 orange stamp from Richland County, South Carolina inscribed "RECORDING". From the scan that accompanied the lot, it was obvious that the stamp was fairly recent. An inquiry to Mr. John Norris, Richland County Registrar of Deeds, brought a most helpful and informative reply. From at least 1972 until February 19, 1998, Richland County had used stamps to pay the county fee for recording deeds. This is a recording fee, not a tax on the deeds themselves. The fee rate was and is $10 for the first four pages of a deed and $1 for every page over four. The stamps were affixed directly to the deed, cancelled, and the deed was then returned to the owner. After stamps were eliminated, a non-stamp system for collecting the fee was introduced.

Six denominations had been used until the stamps were discontinued. Although the stamps are now obsolete, the Office of the Registrar of Deeds has a supply on hand and these are still sold at face value. The SRS has purchased a quantity of each denomination for resale to members, at face. Details appear in the SRS sale department.

Interestingly, the stamps discontinued in 1998 were different than earlier issues, as evidenced by four stamps that appeared in Eric Jackson's mail auction 145 published in the September 1999 issue of The American Revenuer, page 155. One of these four was a duplicate of the original stamp I saw on E-bay. A listing of the ten known Richland County recording fee stamps appears below. Please report any additional varieties to the editor.

Whether or not other South Carolina counties use or have used similar stamps is now being investigated.

New Oklahoma and Tribal Stamps Found

by Scott Troutman

During the Thanksgiving holidays I drove out to the Cheyenne-Arapaho Smoke Shop at Concho, Oklahoma and made not one but two discoveries. Shown below is the bottom of a pack of Marlboro 25's I picked up.

First it has two Cheyenne & Arapaho tribal stamps on it. These are black on bright yellow paper. For those not familiar with smoke shops, these are tobacco shops run by Indian tribes on their own reservations. In a Supreme Court decision, State of Oklahoma vs Potawatamie Smoke Shop, the Supreme Court declared that the tribes had the right to sell products on their reservations free from both state and federal taxes. Further the tribes had taxing authority if they wanted to apply their own taxes. As such cigarettes purchased at smoke shops are cheap. To date, only the Muscogee tribe was known to have issued tax stamps¹.

At the Cheyenne-Arapaho Smoke Shop normal packs of 20 cigarettes had only one tax stamp, packs of 25 had two stamps. I have not found out what the tax rate is.

Also of note on this pack was the existence of a second Oklahoma Native American stamp. Native American stamps are issued by the state of Oklahoma to the smoke shops and are used to indicate a tax free status. A yellow 20 cigarette stamp has been known for some time². On this however, is a black on orange 25 cigarette heat fusion.

As there are some 80 tribes in Oklahoma many more tribal stamps could exist. I have since check the Kickapoo Smoke Shop, but they did not have tribal stamps.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Little Mystery

The 4th quarter SRN came in this afternoon. The mystery items on page 19 are World War II liquor ration coupons. As far as I can tell, liquor rationing was handled by the states. In Pennsylvania (and maybe other states) there was a rubber stamped entry in ration book three. Ohio had a large card for rubber stamped entries. Other states had coupons, like the ones shown. There is very little information published that I have found so far. Every so often one of the unused coupons shows up in odd lots.

Question?

Could the dues be paid for more than one year? I sure enjoy the State Revenue News.

Sure! Though we recommend you don't do it for more than 4 years out.

Colorado Beer

A brief comment on the Colorado Beer stamp on the 4th quarter SRN cover. The stamp is from the second term of Morrison. My brighter copy is deep violet-blue (Stanley Gibbons) which is quite a contrast from my "C" which is deep blue gray-blue.

The beer on your copy might have bleached it gray-black as you said.

Frank Bocovich
Colorado

The one on the cover is a quite pale gray-black. I don't think it was ever a deep anything.

Beer Tales

Found your beer issue to be an absolute delight, most of all your narrative on the brew and tying same into the states was masterful. Here are a couple more "beer" memories.

In the 1500's German monks were brewing a very dark bock beer and using same for diuretic purposes (ha..). The senior monk became concerned that his flock was getting a bit tight consuming this dark and bubbly beverage, so he kegged up a barrel and shipped it off to Rome to be examined by the Pope. Italians being good consumers of wine found the Bock not to their tastes and sent a courier back to the monastery saying that on behalf of the Pope you were indeed "blessed for drinking such a foul concoction".

It is also a matter of record that in the diaries kept by two male passengers of the Mayflower that they imposed upon the Captain to put into any port at the earliest possible time because the ship was close to running out of Ale. Once upon shore, one of the first things they did was get their brewery going.

As to your unlisted Utah B2, that entire series is replete with color differences (i.e. shades) and paper differences from bright white to dingy brown.

M.E. Matesen
Washington

I had discovered that the Pilgrims had plenty of ale at the First Thanksgiving.

Mack is working on a new Utah catalog and sent me examples of the Utah B3. The three stamps are colored olive green, light olive green, and lime on three different kinds of paper. Editor.

Florida Egg Cataloging Error

In trying to catalog some eggs stamps I found an error in the Florida cataloging in the 4th quarter SRN on page 11. The stamp shown with the picture labeled "E36b blue with blue serial number" was already listed as E46a in the cataloging in the 3rd quarter issue page 6.

Free for all Correction

A correction for information in the 4th qtr 1999 SRN in the Free for all. It is my wife who is the smoker, not I. I just make her save the revenues stamps.

Presidents Message

Let me welcome all SRS members into the 21st century and the new millennium. Contrary to all the doom-saying, we all seem to have arrived here free from damage and one the worse for wear. I'm just happy I don't have to figure out what to do with 100 gallons of bottled water, a ton of gasoline, 200 pounds of dried food and a generator or two!

Turning to the SRS, the new millennium finds the SRS in excellent shape. We have a wonderful publication, due to the combined efforts of the editor, printer and all the contributors. We have an active membership that continues to grow and the organization is financially secure.

One of the more promising signs for the future of state revenue collecting is the increasing number of state revenue lots being offered, and sold, on Ebay, the online auction service. Ebay, and others like it, reach hundreds of thousands of potential collectors. Almost every day new state revenue lots appear. And often they are very interesting lots, and stamps that have never been reported before. This can only be good exposure for state revenue collecting. and the SRS. If you get one of these lots do write it up for us.

Good hunting and collecting in the new millennium.

SRN Publishing Schedule

The State Revenue News is published to the following schedule, or we try to. Advertisers and auction consignors should note this schedule.

Issue	Goes to Printer	Have stuff in
1st qtr	February 1	Jan. 10th
2nd qtr	May 1	April 10th
3rd qtr	September 1	August 1st*
4th qtr	December 1	Nov. 10th

* this is because the editor tends to vacation in August. In all cases, the earlier you sent it in the better.

 No SRS auctions in 4th quarter.

Advertising rates are available from the editor. Business card size will run you $5 an issue (cheap). A full page is about $50.

Our thanks to M.E. Matesen and Wilfred Scull for donations made to the society.

SRS Sales Philosophy

Why does the SRS purchase these stamps? The following rules of thumb apply:

--There is a discount for a large order which can be passed on to the SRS members.

--The sale of the stamps will expire before SRS members can be notified in the newsletter.

--The stamps are non-fish and game.

--The stamps are fish and game stamps that are not readily available.

--There is a minimum purchase requirement.

Note: Certain stamps may have a purchase limit to give all members an opportunity to obtain these stamps.

Illinois Beer Find

by Gerald Derksen

Here is an Illinois quarter barrel beer stamp that is not in the Hubbard catalog. The stamp has a perfin of "LEMAN/3-29-46/BRY" and is 84 x 52 mm, black printing on a blue safety background, hypen hole roulette 6 1/2 on the top and left side. It has a light brown serial number, and its most curious feature is the inditia "SERIES NO. 4". The 1941 stamps listed in Hubbard do show a "SERIES NO. 1". This may be an additional value in the 1946 series Hubbard mentions, but he does not mention the series number 4.

Japan Egg Stamps

by John Funkhouser

When I was in Japan in 1992, we would purchase eggs at the supermarket in Otsu, Shinga Prefecture. Each individual egg in the box had a small oval sticker stuck to the top. A copy is enclosed. The rim is green, there appears to be a little bird symbol (doesn't look like a chicken to me) in green and white on a red square, with a date spray or ink jet printed date. The copy is actual size. These were probably all hand applied - I can't see a machine doing it; one of the reasons for no unemployment in the Land of the Rising Sun.
